FOUNDATION CERTIFICATE FOR COACHING IN EDUCATION

NEW INNOVATIVE ONLINE COURSE FOR EDUCATORS

Are you interested in how coaching can work in your school or college but not sure where to start?

Would you like to get a broad overview of key 'coaching in education' concepts and applications before you get too involved?

Or perhaps you have made a start already but you want to take stock, look at the broader situation and get more information about the kind of impact it is having.

Maybe your location and busy schedule make it difficult to attend live workshops away from your school?

If any of the above resonate with your current situation you will find useful ideas, resources and strategies within the Foundation Certificate for Coaching in Education now being offered by Growth Coaching online.

This new internet based programme, created by an international panel of online learning experts, academics and practitioners and developed specifically for educators and staff in schools and colleges, provides a broad-based foundation certificate for educators interested in introducing or embedding coaching within their school, college or university.

KEY FEATURES INCLUDE:

- 📄 Shared case studies and evidence-based coaching practice from the UK, Australia and the US.
- 📄 The opportunity to learn with a global cohort of educators from different parts of the world
- 📄 The latest thinking in relation to leadership coaching, peer coaching, the use of positive psychology and the creation of coaching cultures
- 📄 Academic and practical support for online students
- 📄 Livewebinars from well-respected thought-leaders in the field
- 📄 Weekly activities, online discussion and assignments
- 📄 Downloadable resources and information

This programme provides a foundation for further online and face-to-face coaching in education courses.
